All living areas are a generous size and include a 'formal' lounge, study/office and an open plan family hub which includes the dining meals, family room with more living area than you could throw a stick at.

The chef of the house won't be left out of the action as the kitchen overlooks the informal living and features plenty of benchspace, dishwasher and a large fridge recess.

If you want more living area, the garage has been lined, has new flooring and is being used as a theatre room, however could easily be reinstated as a double garage. The exterior features a gable patio entertaining area, overlooking lovely views and a swimming pool.

Another feature of this lovely home is the use of large windows which allow the natural light in to make this a light and bright home.
